King George to Visit Roosevelt In White House

Skinny Skribbles

Around And About Town

With U. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

Ranchers surveyed with apparent discouragement the damage resulting from the high wind which started last Saturday evening, and ends—when? Trees showed the effects of defoliation, and the ground was liberally sprinkled with green fruit. That slashing, whipping current which comes in from the desert, stuns the oranges whirling, and in the stem yields to the constant pressure of the storm, until it surrenders to the elements. Then the rancher waits another year before he can put another orange back to take its place. If you are engaged in an industry with your merchandise out-of-doors, you are in a dicken's of a fix, and if you keep at it long enough you'll be fixed, too.

Nels Edwards and the lady are touring South America. Last report came from Santiago, Chile. Nels must feel at home if he is around any place with the name Santiago. There's a creek running south of his place so designated. Lots of rain in Chile. A relative of Mrs. Edwards gave her one of those cellophane coats before starting on the South American tour, and it came in mighty handy at Santiago. The coat created astonishment among the señoritas, as they were unable to understand how such a flimsy garment could be waterproof. The Chilean city was a good place to prove it. I have a grapevine that Nels' anxiety to vote cost him $3.10 for absentee ballots via air-mail. Oh, well, if that $30-a-week Thursday scheme passes, he won't be long getting his money back.

And then there is the scientist who claims the desert winds are worth it, but he doesn't own an orange grove. Says the wind blows the bugs and microbes and germs out to sea. Oh, yeah? Guess that's more wind.

Of all the requests that come into a newspaper office which deserve the least consideration, is the one from the drunk driver asking that his name be kept out of the paper. I do not make the decisions for this paper, but if I did make them the suppression of items about drunk drivers would fall on deaf ears. That old stuff about it breaking mother's heart or hurting the family pride should be seriously considered before getting drunk.

And then it remained for Wilbur Barr to present to a local service club a speaker who talked about the Redwood trees.

If you think this day is favorable for the collection or even the apprehension of paragraphs, you are mistaken. Election days furnish but one general topic of conversation. It runs something like this: "Have you voted?" Now there's real news—on account of its antiquity.

It happens more often during elections, but it happens at other times too. Some individuals interested in certain candidates or amendments ask for publicity, after the same candidates or amendments have been handled so frequently by the news departments that the subjects have become threadbare. Many people read newspapers, some don't.

Win or lose, I'm always glad when elections are over. And as for a primary—they are about as useless as another wing on a Capistrano swallow.

Well, so far as I am concerned, give me rain instead of wind.

And this is the night I wouldn't care for Basil Smith's job. It lasts too long, and too many people are asking questions.

The esteemed and usually accurate Los Angeles Times continues to repeat a distasteful error when referring to winds which sweep the counties of San Bernardino, Imperial, Riverside, Los Angeles and San Diego.

Good Feeling of Two Nations Will Be Emphasized

LONDON. (AP)—King George VI told parliament today he had "been happy to accept" as an "expression" of Anglo-American good feeling President Roosevelt's invitation to visit the United States during the royal Canadian tour next spring.

The announcement was made by the gorgeously appareled monarch from the throne in the house of lords in an address opening the fourth session of the current parliament and the second of his reign.

WARSHIP TO BE USED? King George did not disclose how the North American trip would be made. There has been speculation on the possibility that the Hood, called the world's largest battle cruiser, might take him and the queen. It will be the first time a British sovereign ever set foot in a former colony.

An invitation to President Albert Lebrun of France to come to London next spring to repay a royal visit to Paris last July also was disclosed by the monarch.

PEACE ADVANCED The king viewed the British-Italian friendship agreement, which is about to be brought into force, as a step in the furthering of the cause of European peace. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

SPANISH SINK ANOTHER SHIP

LONDON. (AP)—A Spanish insurgent warship apparently claimed another victim today in a relentless campaign to clear the North Sea of Spanish government merchantmen.

Lloyds of London relayed by a royal air force plane through the Cromer station that an armed vessel resembling the insurgent auxiliary cruiser Nadir was standing by an unidentified freighter which was sinking near Waddell lightship, off the Belgian coast.

The plane, which gave the only immediate report of the incident, did not indicate whether the warship had attacked the freighter.

'Tom Sawyer' No. 1 Dies at Age of 82

CINCINNATI. (AP)—Thomas A. Sawyer Spivey, 82, said by his widow to have been the original "Tom Sawyer" immortalized by Mark Twain, died in a hospital last night.

A native of Shawneetown, Ill., Spivey came here little more than a year ago. Mrs. Spivey said her husband first became acquainted with Mark Twain when, as a child, he played along the waterfront.

MOUNT JOY, Pa. (AP)—Hunter Reigle came upon a fox asleep in a wheat field. He started to shoot, then remembered it might be illegal to kill the animal. While shy Reynard snoozed, Reigle retreated a few yards, hastily thumbed a code book and discovered the law was on his side. Triumphant, he drilled the fox with one shot.

Firemen Dash 12 Feet to Blaze

WINCHESTER, Ky. (AP)—The alarm sounded. Sirens screaming, the Winchester fire department's trucks shot out of the station house—then screeched to a stop. Length of run: 12 feet. Scene of fire: second floor, same building. Cause: burning curtain.

Actress Sues for Child, Alimony

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Blandine Ebinger, German screen actress, filed suit here today to regain custody of her daughter, Philene, and for $402.50 monthly alimony from her former husband, Frederick Hollander, composer.

WARD SALES DECLINE CHICAGO. (AP)—Montgomery Ward & Co. reported total sales for October at $46,666,954 as compared with $48,825,293 for October, 1937, a decrease of $2,158,249 or 4.42 per cent.

Along the Battleline of Ballots

DOWN COMES SIGN BERKELEY. (AP)—"There's a sign supporting the '$30-Every-Thursdays' proposition" posted on the roof over our voting place," precinct election officials told District Attorney Earl Warren by telephone today. "What shall we do?"

Warren consulted the statute books and said the sign must come down, even though it was over a private garage, because its presence constituted "electioneering," which isn't allowed within 100 feet of the polls.

CHAMPION VOTER SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—Roland B. F. Randolph, building and loan company official, told the county clerk several days ago he would be in "Los Angeles election day. The clerk sent his ballot south.

Then Randolph changed his mind, sent his son and went to the polling place to vote. Denied a ballot because he had been sent to Los Angeles, Randolph hopped the first plane south.

"I'm going to vote today," he said. FRAUD CHARGED IN JERSEY NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Charges and counter charges of election fraud brought a close watch by federal and state investigators in three key counties today as New Jersey, electing a United States senator, chose between a former state WPA administrator running against a Republican, and a Republican ex-senator campaigning as a "sane liberal."

HORSE 'N' BUGGY DAYS MOBERLY, Mo.—The Randolph county Democratic central committee planned to haul voters to the polls in autos.

Then came week-end snow and rains. Roads bogged deep. Hurriedly the committee decided to stand by its program and give voters a free ride—by horse and buggy.

L. A. DOUBLES VOTE LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Early voting in Los Angeles was almost double the balloting in ordinary elections, Registrar Kerr said today. He added that probably 75 per cent of the total vote would be cast. Election boards reported a particularly heavy vote on the part of elderly persons.

BRAWLS AT BOOTHS PHILADELPHIA. A — Arrests followed quickly in the wake of disorders that accompanied heavy voting here today. In one precinct voting was halted for an hour by disorders. Votes are piling up at twice the ordinary pace.

LAST COMPLETE RETURNS TOLLAND, Mass. (AP)—This town, first to report complete returns in today's state election, gave Leverett Saltonstall, Republican candidate for governor, 40 votes to 12 for James M. Curley, Democrat.

ONE-VOTE PRECINCT NEW YORK. (AP)—A full complement of election officials had to turn out to receive the vote of Rabbi Nathan Wolf. He was the only registered voter in one election district situated in a business neighborhood.

WEATHER PERFECT SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—As far as the weather man is concerned, California should have a record today. The weather throughout California is recorded as "perfect."

HUSBAND VS. WIFE ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—It was husband against wife for state representative. Rep. R. G. Cartier was running as an independent, his wife as a Democrat.

German Foreign Office Sharply Attacks U. S. As Foe of Fascists

BERLIN. (AP)—An organ of the German foreign office today sharply attacked the United States, charging official and unofficial attempts to incite South American countries against Germany and to convince South Americans of "the evil intentions of the Fascist states."

Deutsche Diplomatische-Politische Korrespondenz cited a radio address Sunday night by Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, and added: "It is known that the United States will neglect nothing, especially in connection with the colonial question, to stir up a fear of Germany complex in South America."

30 Per Cent Orange Co. Vote Cast by Noon; Record Likely

Balloting Heavy in Country

(By the Associated Press) Clement weather over much of the country beckoned voters in near-record throngs today to register an "off-year" test of the New Deal's national standing by electing hundreds of congressmen and state officials.

Balloting was early and heavy in Pennsylvania, where citizens chose a senator and governor after one of the bitterest contests of 1938 campaigning. Other industrial centers reported crowds swarming the polling places to write the decision on Republican efforts to reduce big Democratic majorities in the senate, house and 48 governorships.

SOUTH VOTE SLOW In the South, however, chilly weather and rain tended to keep down the voting, which for the most part constituted merely ratification of Democratic nominations made months ago.

SHIP SINKING LAID TO BOMB

OAKLAND. (AP)—Investigators worked today on the theory that it was a black powder time bomb explosion which tore the five-foot hole in the German freighter Vancouver here last Thursday, endangering lives of passengers and crew.

District Attorney Earl Warren said officers and marine experts among the investigators generally believed the bomb was placed alongside the ship while it was being loaded at a dock here. The investigators said they believed the bomb was suspended just below the ship's waterline by a cable attached to the scuppers. Crew members, passengers and dock workers were to be questioned, Warren said, since it appeared that whoever had placed the bomb had knowledge of the ship's sailing time.

Only the fact the ship left the dock 10 minutes late saved the explosion from being a disaster, Warren said. Had the bomb exploded 10 minutes later, the vessel would have been out of Oakland estuary and in the deep waters of San Francisco bay.

Bay Newspaper Publisher Dies

BERKELEY. (AP)—Charles Ellsworth Duncomb, 70, publisher of the Berkeley Daily Gazette, died unexpectedly last night in his hotel apartment here. An illness of several days had not been considered serious.

Quake Near Vienna

VIENNA. (AP)—Numerous houses in villages southeast of Vienna were damaged by an earthquake lasting 10 seconds. Damage in Vienna was slight.

5000 PUNCHBOARDS LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Calvin Callahan, 55, was under arrest today by Wilshire division police on charges of suspicion of possessing gambling devices, after confiscation, officers said, of 5000 punchboards at his establishment.

KING FOR A DAY

50,000 Expected At Polls

Heavy early voting in today's general election indicated a possible new record total for Orange county, as more than 50 per cent of those eligible had cast ballots by noon in some representative precincts.

More than 50,000 voters were expected to visit polling places in 246 precincts here before the close of election hours at 7 p. m.

HEATED RACES Heated races in half a dozen local contests, extreme interest in pension, labor and single-tax measures on the state ballot and a spirited statewide campaign for offices of governor, lieutenant-governor and U. S. senator all contributed to the high vote.

First complete returns from precincts were not expected until at least 8:30 p. m., due to the 25 propositions on which election boards must count "yes" and "no" votes. The candidate list is much smaller than that at the primary, where up to a dozen candidates were listed on the ballot for such offices as lieutenant-governor and controller.

FEWER CANDIDATES Local candidates wound up their campaigns with last-minute radio addresses last night—most of them changed to times so late in the evening that audiences were small.

Primary election races had cleaned out most candidates for local office. Voters in Orange county were naming two assemblymen, two judges of the superior court, sheriff, district attorney, and constables in Anaheim and Seal Beach townships and justices of the peace in Anaheim and Orange townships.

ASSEMBLY RACES Assembly races saw one Republican and one Democratic incumbent fighting to retain their seats in the legislature. Thomas Kuchel, Anaheim attorney and Republican assemblyman from the seventh district, was opposed by Burr Brown, Seal Beach city attorney and Democratic nominee.

Democratic incumbent Clyde Watson, Orange rancher, had two opponents in his race for re-election in the seventy-fourth district. Republican Attorney Adria Marks of Santa Ana and Levi C. Carlisle, Townsend candidate.

TRI-COUNTY CONTEST Orange county voters also were contributing their ballots to a tri-county race for congress, which saw incumbent Harry Sheppard, Yucaipa Democrat, opposed by Mayor C. T. Johnson, Republican of San Bernardino. Johnson has Townsend endorsement; and there is no other Townsend candidate in the field.

Exceptionally close was the race for the judgeship of department two of superior court, where Judge James L. Allen, incumbent, was only a spectator, having lost out in the primary. Franklin G. West, Santa Ana attorney, and Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison of Santa Ana township were the contenders for the six-year term.

SHERIFF RACE LIVELY In department one of the same court, Judge H. G. Ames, twice elected, was opposed for a third term by James L. Davis, Santa Ana attorney who barely won in the primary.

2,500,000 Due to Vote in State; Townsend-Downey Matter Cleared

GUARD CALLED OUT TO CHECK SHOOTING

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—Thirty-five members of the Harlan national guard company were called out today to stand by for an emergency following a pre-election shooting last night.

Six men are in jail pending the filing of charges in two shootings in which no one was hit. Authorities refused permission to anyone asking to see them, even members of their families.

At Morehead in northeastern Kentucky W. E. Proctor, former Rowan county attorney, was charged with shooting and wounding William Tackett last night. Tackett was shot in the hip and is in a hospital. There were a number of fist fights there yesterday where a heated board of education race has aroused the people.

Repudiation Declared Due To Mistake

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—A fourth of California's 3,611,416 voters balloted before noon today in one of the state's bitterest campaigns.

Heavy turnouts were reported in the four largest counties—Los Angeles, San Francisco, Alameda and San Diego—comprising two-thirds of the total electorate. Voting was slow because of the abnormally long ballot.

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—One of California's bitterest campaigns, involving a scrip pension proposal which threatened wide breaks in party lines over state and national officers, moved to a climax as voters began a 13-hour parade to the polls at 6 a. m. today.

As predicted, 2,500,000 of California's 3,611,416 voters began to cast ballots for at least 23 candidates and 25 propositions, an offshoot of the $30-Every-Thursdays pension proposition, involved Democratic Senatorial Nominee Sheridan Downey in a last-minute controversy.

ACTION WITHDRAWN The debate was over whether a radio address made from Des Moines, Iowa, last night actually carried Dr. Francis E. Townsend's repudiation of Downey, long numbered among those whom the $200-a-month pension plan founder favored.

This repudiation was assigned to Dr. Townsend by his assistant, Roy J. Webb, in the radio address. Webb said the repudiation was caused by Downey's asserted endorsement of the $30-Every-Thursdays plan. Immediately Glen Wilson, Townsend's California chairman, said the founder had withdrawn the repudiation by telephone. Sheridan Downey asserted (Continued on page 2, col. 3-4)

FATE OF NEW DEAL MAY BE KNOWN TODAY

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The pace of the New Deal for the next two years, perhaps even its life beyond 1940, depends on the mood of today's voters.

Though hidden in many places by a film of local issues and personalities, that was the question to which the voters were writing an answer. If they sought an answer that would measure up to President Roosevelt's idea of co-

Asserting that his ministers "deeply regret the continuance of hostilities in Spain," the king said they would lend assistance in any way toward the restoration of peace in that country.

READY TO AID PEACE

He said also Britain was ready at any time, if desired by the parties to the dispute in the Far East, to aid in reaching a settlement in the Chinese-Japanese war.

"Meanwhile my ministers will do all in their power to safeguard British interests in the areas affected," he said.

Some quarters believe the present session may be the last of this parliament although no authoritative statement was available on when a general election would be conducted.

CHAMBERLAIN HIT

Chamberlain's "peace with honor" policy received what was considered a sharp setback when Mrs. Jennie Adamson, a laborite, was elected to parliament in the normally conservative constituency of Darford.

In a by-election she received a majority of 4238 votes over Godfrey Mitchell, a conservative. She said, "I won because the electors disapprove of the government's foreign policy and are ashamed of Mr. Chamberlain's betrayal of Czechoslovakia and democracy."

She referred to the four-power Munich conference Sept. 29 on the partitioning of Czechoslovakia.

THEY'LL BE CROWDED

WASHINGTON. (AP)—If the British king and queen come to Washington and stay at the White House during their American visit next year, they will encounter a minimum of formality.

There isn't room in the compact old mansion for a display of extreme ceremony. The entire building would fit into one wing of Buckingham palace.

The bedrooms are not even in suites, and there would be scant accommodations for the host of sides-de-camp and ladies-in-waiting who might be expected in a royal party.

MRS. WASSER DIES AT HOME

Mrs. Emma A. Wasser, 77, died at her home, 731 Mortimer street, at noon today. She had lived in Santa Ana for 37 years, and had a wide circle of friends. She was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Surviving are a daughter, Miss Alice V. Wasser, and a son, W. W. Wasser, of Santa Ana; a daughter, Mrs. Adda M. Smith, Stanwood, Iowa; a sister, Mrs. Charlotte Kettelson, Iowa City, Iowa, and two brothers, W. W. Aldrich, Lincoln, Neb., and Lewis B. Aldrich, Florida City, Fla.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Smith and Tutthill.

Los Alamitos Girl Severely Burned

Three-year-old Lupe Gomez, 413 Walnut street, Los Alamitos, was confined to the Orange county hospital in a critical condition today, suffering from severe burns on the face and upper portions of the body. The little girl lighted some papers at her home this morning and the blaze ignited her clothing.

Check on Political Use of Federal Funds Aim of Senators

U. S. MAY TAKE CONTROL OF PRIMARY CASH

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Chairman Sheppard (D., Tex.) said today the senate campaign committee in drafting recommendations to congress will consider a proposal to outlaw political use of federal funds.

The proposal, he said, contemplates a specific prohibition not only against using WPA funds or influence in elections, but also federal money allocated to state governments.

He listed three other problems as among the most important to be considered at a committee meeting late this month:

1. Congressional control of primary campaign expenditures.

2. Clarification of the law governing contributions to candidates by federal employees.

3. Restriction of the franking privilege to prevent its use in political campaigns.

Both Republicans and Democrats came assurances of support in the senate for any legislation by the committee to eliminate corruption in elections.

Senator Borah (R., Idaho) said he believed thorough revision of existing laws would be necessary.

Senator Donahay (D., Ohio) said he would support any attempt to regulate political contributions by federal employees.

Senator Sheppard said a revision of the corrupt practices act might be adequate to give congress control over primary campaign expenditures, although a constitutional amendment to accomplish this had been suggested.

(The supreme court has ruled that primary elections were subject solely to state regulation, but the vote was four to four, with one justice not participating.)

Donahay suggested that congress might permit federal employees to contribute voluntarily to candidates' campaign funds but might set a limit for such contributions.

This point has been in controversy since the senate committee ruled that federal employees could contribute only to state or national party funds, not directly to a candidate or to his campaign committee.

Sheppard said committee investigation had shown the law governing franking of mail was so loosely drawn "that a candidate can frank anything from the Congressional Record, on any subject, in any amount to any place."

GEO. M'MILLIN DIES IN L. A.

Santa Ana friends of George McMillin received with sorrow the news of his death at his home in Los Angeles.

For years Mr. McMillin has been visiting Santa Ana in the interest of A. Carlisle & Co. of San Francisco. He was well known among courthouse officials and had many friends in this city.

In remembrance of his friendship, Mr. McMillin's friends offered to have his home today. Robert Brown of this city attended the services.

Blaze in Auto Laid to Wiring

Smoke caused by a short in the wiring system of a sedan belonging to Everett Johnson sent the Santa Ana fire department hurrying to 211 North Main street at 12:40 p. m. today.

A trash fire was extinguished by the fire department on property at 1541 East Fourth street last night.

Drop Recorded in Cotton Production

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The agriculture department forecast today cotton production this year of 12,137,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight. A month ago 12,212,000 bales were indicated. Production last year was 18,946,000 bales—a record crop—and average production for the 10 years, 1927-36, was 13,201,000 bales.

2,500,000 Expected to Go To Poles in State Today; Pension Matter Explained

Webb's address was a political hoax.

OLSON CONFIDENT

As the radio controversy started, Culbert L. Olson, Democratic nominee for governor, claimed the Democratic ticket would overthrow Republican control of the state administration for the first time in 40 years by "from 400,000 to 500,000 votes."

Governor Frank F. Merriam, the Republican nominee, asserted at the same time "supporters and my opponents" would be "surprised" at the size of the vote insuring his election. He "stood on his record" and pledged himself to "liberalism."

Republican campaign leaders predicted Merriam would win by 150,000 votes.

THE $30-Every-Thursday plan—known familiarly by friend and foe as the "ham and eggs plan"—was one of the most vigorously contested proposals.

California voters had a ballot listing at least 23 state offices besides various county races and 25 propositions.

Besides the governor race they had the job of selecting a junior United States senator with Downey being opposed by Philip Bancroft, a Republican nominee.

For lieutenant governor Dr. Walter Scott Franklin, Republican nominee, was opposed by Ellis Patterson, Democratic nominee.

Chief among propositions, besides the pension plan, was a measure to regulate labor unions.

$300,000 SUIT

A tangent from the California political campaign was the filing of a suit for $200,000 by two prominent Democrats against Harper Knowles as result of his including them among persons he labeled as "communists" before the Dies congressional committee investigating un-American activities.

Patterson, the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, and John G. Clark, Democratic state chairman, each asked $100,000 in damages denying that they were "communists." Knowles is state chairman of the American Legion's radical committee but responsibility for his testimony was denied by the Legion.

ACTION EXPLAINED

CHICAGO. (AP)—A spokesman for Dr. Francis E. Townsend said today the old age pension plan advocate was supporting Sheridan Downey, California's Democratic candidate for U. S. senator, despite Dr. Townsend's apparent repudiation of Downey in a broadcast from Des Moines, Iowa, last night.

The spokesman said the following clarification of the situation could be attributed to Roy J. Webb, assistant and personal representative of Dr. Townsend:

"Capt. Russell R. Hand, a Townsend-supported candidate for congress from the California 12th district, telephoned Dr. Townsend yesterday and said that Downey in a radio broadcast had given his support to the $30-every-Thursday or

"ham and eggs" plan in California. "On the basis of that information Dr. Townsend in his Des Moines radio speech which I (Webb) read for him said that 'if the statement of Capt. Hand is true I shall feel it necessary to withdraw my support of Mr. Downey.' Dr. Townsend is interested only in his own $200 a month pension plan and candidates sympathetic toward it."

"After the broadcast Glen Wilson, California chairman for the Townsend organization, telephoned the doctor and said that Capt. Hand's statement was incorrect and assured Dr. Townsend that Downey was not supporting the 'ham and eggs' plan but had been 'adopted' by the advocates of that plan."

"Dr. Townsend thereupon informed Mr. Wilson that he would continue his support of Mr. Downey."

The spokesman said Webb had returned to Chicago, that Dr. Townsend came to Chicago by train and flew to Detroit this morning. He said efforts were being made to locate Dr. Townsend in Detroit for a personal statement on the California controversy.

$90-Week Job on Desert Rejected

BOSTON. (AP)—Returning from Persia's oil fields, two American men today snickered at "glamor" in the desert and vowed they never would return—in spite of a $90 weekly salary.

Wiley D. Tucker, East Cleveland, Ohio, electrician, and Raymond T. Campbell, Texas pipe fitter, arriving today aboard the American export liner Excalibur, told newsmen they had spent six weeks in the oil fields of Abadom, 1000 miles inland, superintending the work of natives.

geles and Orange. The Times gives credit to this county as being the big bad wolf of the disastrous and unwelcome winds and refers to them as of Santa Ana origin, when the origination is desert, and the avenue of approach through the Cajon pass. "Westways" sometime ago went into an exhaustive research for the proper appellation.

Some one compromised on "Santana" wind, whether having traced it to the santanic majesty or the General, I do not recall, but A. J. Cruickshank has consistently protested bestowing any honor or dishonor on this county, and insisting that the winds were of desert origin. The Times on the same page carried a dispatch from Albuquerque in which it was reported the wind was so heavy that airplanes were grounded, and train schedules delayed. Could that have been a "Santa Ana" in reverse and effective some 1500 miles away?

The oratory has ceased to be a part of the campaign. It's over. So is the voting, almost. I'm sympathetic with the voter who listens to radio addresses on both sides, and then is undecided which one is right.

"Butch" Lambert was in from the groves this morning to inquire about words of wisdom, and I failed to send him to the source from which he could have benefited, even with the elements and weather both against the rancher. It is a book which has an old testament and a new testament. I was afraid to suggest it to "Butch" for fear of offending him, and then after I left him I thought maybe I made a mistake for fear he never heard about it.

rectness, they often had to ignore party labels.

As far as the perpetuation of his program is concerned, it will not hinge on the votes of any party alone. Some Democrats are deeply opposed to it. Some Republicans are for it.

At every point along the line it has moved in the last six years, the most telling blows against it have been delivered by conservative Democrats. The Republicans were too weak numerically to do any heavy lifting.

Thus, if the next congress is filled with liberals, regardless of party, Mr. Roosevelt may be counted on to go ahead with his own ideas for getting the forgotten man out of the jungle of economic obscurity. His goal will not change if congress is filled with conservatives, but his route and rate of travel may.

Not even the most sanguine Democrat expects to get through the day without party losses. These might mean little, or nothing, to the immediate progress of the Roosevelt program if the losing Democrats are supplanted by sympathetic Republicans.

But even more serious, from the standpoint of the administration, would be the threat to long range continuance of the program which large Democratic losses would imply. The party in control of congress and state governments has powerful tools to work with when it sets out to make a president. And 1940 is coming up.

Given liberal Democrats in this congress and assured of the control of most state governments by liberal Democrats during the next two years, Mr. Roosevelt will have a Democratic national convention in 1940 that will listen with a more willing mood to his ideas about candidates and issues.

Republican, out in front of James M. Curley, Democrat, for the governorship.

The outpouring of citizens from factory and field, from kitchen and office, gave every indication of setting a voting record surpassed only by the 45,000,000 total of 1936.

The major offices at stake were 35 senate seats, 32 governorships and 432 house seats. Only in Maine, which elected a Republican governor and three representatives in September, was no vote being cast.

ROOSEVELT IS ISSUE

Candidates were many and the issues varied, but in the bulk of the congressional contests the question of support or opposition to Roosevelt policies predominated.

The President himself appealed only last Friday for election of men who would favor "liberal" proposals.

The opening of the polls—at daybreak in some states—put an end to the campaign speechmaking. Many government officials and virtually all members of congress, their voices hoarse, were back in their home balliwicks to vote.

HAMILTON WARNS

Republican Chairman John Hamilton, reiterating claims of party gains, announced he had telegraphed Republican state chairmen to have "all party workers and candidates keep close watch for evidence of coercion of relief beneficiaries, preserving all available evidence for submission to the congressional investigating committee and possible grand jury action."

In a national broadcast last night, Hamilton introduced as the closing Republican speaker the one-time "Big Train" of baseball, Walter Johnson, who is a candidate for county commissioner.

"There were 11,000,000 men and women out of work in 1932 and we still have that many today and no signs of any permanent break on the horizon yet. I am mighty sure that's not American."

out J. B. Tucker of Santa Ana for second place in the primary.

Constable Jesse Elliott, leader by a wide margin in the primary race for sheriff, was fighting to keep that lead against a spirited campaign by partisans of Sheriff Logan Jackson, twice elected before.

Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton, leader by 3000 votes in the primary election against five other candidates, hoped to keep that lead against George Holden, city attorney of Anaheim. Support of the two runners-up was divided, Elmer Guy, third, having endorsed Menton; and Joel Ogle, fourth, having swung over to the Holden camp.

VETERANS AID

Transportation to the polls was being furnished voters by a score of agencies, including the American Legion and various campaign headquarters.

No difficulties had been reported at the polls to police or sheriff's officers by noon, despite rumors that votes were to be challenged by one party or another. County Clerk E. J. Smith's office reported the election progressing relatively smoothly.

WINDBREAKS
SAVE LOSS DUE
TO 2-DAY GALE

Orange county's one thousand miles or more of windbreaks was credited by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg today with preventing serious crop damage from the heavy winds which whipped across California over the week-end.

The windbreaks, most of which are eucalyptus trees, were believed to have saved county ranchers thousands of dollars during the two-day windstorm.

Wahlberg said the windbreaks planted in Orange county are "becoming more effective each year as the hedge of trees increase in height."

Following a survey of wind damage in citrus and avocado orchards, Wahlberg said he found a great contrast in the number of windfall fruits between protected and unprotected orchards. Where exposed trees dropped a hundred fruit or more, he said, protected trees in the same district showed an insignificant drop of a dozen or so.

Wind-scarring of fruit and defoliation of trees was noticeably less behind windbreaks as compared to open orchards, he pointed out.

Wahlberg said eucalyptus windbreaks provide the best protection generally, because of their rapid rate of growth and their height. The ideal windbreak for Orange county, according to the farm advisor, is the combination planting of the blue gum (Eucalyptus globulus) and the Forbes cypress as a filler.

Records of a previous survey made by the farm advisor's office following the heavy wind of October, 1935, showed that 20 protected Valencia orchards produced an average of 328 field boxes per acre as compared to 214 field boxes per acre in the same number of unprotected orchards.

The protected orchards, according to the survey, packed out 117 boxes of first grade fruit, while the unprotected orchards packed out only 54 boxes of first grade fruit. Similar results from windbreak protection in lemon orchards was noted in the same survey.

The farm advisor's office began sponsoring the planting of windbreaks about 10 years ago.

Berlin Police Launch Campaign to Disarm All Jews in City

1702 GUNS AND MANY SHELLS
HELD SEIZED

BERLIN. (AP)—Count Wolf von Helldorf, chief of Berlin police, announced today he was "disarming" Berlin's Jews and that he had seized quantities of arms and ammunition in the last few weeks.

The announcement was made while Nazis were taking reprisals against Jews for the shooting of a German embassy secretary in Paris by a young Polish Jew, but the round up of arms began some time before the Paris shooting.

It was disclosed a systematic search for which special permits were lacking were seized. The police chief said 1702 firearms, 20,000 rounds of ammunition and 2569 steel knives or knuckles had been found on Jews and that the search was continuing.

Anti-Jewish reprisals were reported from two German towns, while the government banned all Jewish publications until further notice.

At Kassel a mob forced entrance into a synagogue and destroyed its furniture after a demonstration in front of Jewish stores against the attack upon Ernst Von Rath, secretary of the German embassy in Paris, by Herschel Grynszpan, 17-year-old Polish Jew.

A similar anti-semitic demonstration occurred at Bebra. Crowds assembled outside the synagogue and Jewish stores but refrained from violence.

The Nazi press, meanwhile, asserted the shooting would bring "serious consequences."

DNB (German official news agency) reported from Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, that university students there demonstrated against Jewish professors and prevented Jewish students from entering classes.

CHINA CALLED ON FOR BIGGER
SACRIFICES

CHUNGKING, China. (AP)—Chinese have not yet sacrificed enough for victory, Premier Dr. H. H. Kung told a mass meeting today in celebration of the 21st anniversary of the Soviet Russian revolution.

Dr. Kung, speaking in what now is the capital of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's government, praised achievements of the Russian revolution, then added:

"Chinese insufficiently appreciate conditions whereon victory is based—national unity, sacrifice and discipline. Chinese have unity but have not attained sufficient sacrifice."

CANTON. (AP)—Heavy artillery, rifle and machine gun fire echoed over Canton from the north today, indicating large scale fighting on the southern China front had been resumed.

Reports circulated widely that reorganized Chinese troops were approaching the outskirts of the city.

SIANGHAI. (AP)—Japanese aerial bombers kept up a series of attacks today against Changsha and Yochow, Hunan province cities up the Yangtze river toward which land and naval forces are driving.

Chinese admitted their withdrawal from Fuchi and Klayu, intermediate towns between Hankow and Yochow, under Japanese aerial bombings.

The foremost Japanese naval units were reported 60 miles up river from Hankow, within 60 miles of Yochow.

CHUNGKING, China. (AP)—The Chinese central news agency reported today Japanese laborers at the Taiyuan, Shansi province, arsenal revolted last Saturday and blew up a munition dump valued at $1,000,000, killing 300 Japanese soldiers.

Laborers were said to have revolted because of lack of food and failure of Japanese authorities to grant them promised leaves.

Taiyuan is the capital of Shansi, one of the north China provinces occupied by Japanese.

TOWNSEND
NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This column deals with Townsend news and views. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

Harry B. Presson, of Los Angeles at present but who has been connected with the Chicago Townsend headquarters, will address a gathering of Townsends in Santa Ana Townsend hall this evening.

The meeting is being sponsored by Santa Ana Club No. 8, and will begin at 7:30 p. m. with a concert by the Hurd-Lentz orchestra. After a short business session Walter R. Robb, Orange county Townsend organizer, will be presented as master of ceremonies, and will be in charge from then on during the evening.

The evening program includes numerous entertainment numbers, in addition to the speaking and concert. The ladies of the club began serving drinks in the hall at 11:30 a. m. today, and will continue until midnight. Two different type dinners are offered at a cost of either 15 or 25 cents. Come down to the hall and get your dinner tonight, and then stay through the program. A radio will be installed over which will come the election returns, which will be announced over the loud-speaking apparatus from time to time. A portion of the evening will be devoted to fun and frolic. If you miss this meeting you will regret it afterwards.

Santa Ana Clubs Nos. 5 and 6 are not meeting tonight, but are joining in with Club No. 8 in the above Townsend gathering. All members are requested to come to Townsend hall for the evening.

Rev. Joe Nation of Long Beach has been booked by Walter R. Robb, Orange county Townsend speakers' bureau manager, to speak for the Laguna Beach Club No. 1 on Tuesday evening, Nov. 22, following a pot-luck dinner that will be staged that evening.

The club meets at 7:30 this evening in the American Legion hall for a business meeting. Mary S. Van Loenen, president, will be in charge. All Laguna Beach Townsends please take notice, and tell others who do not take The Journal.

The Tustin club is meeting in regular business session at 7:30 this evening in the Townsend club building at C and West Main streets. Afterwards the group will enjoy a social good time together in the form of a party. Election returns will be received over the radio and relayed to ones engaged in having a good time. You are invited to be present.

Henry W. Larson, president of Orange Club No. 1, announces a business session of his club in the Townsend hall building at 131

South Glassell street, at 7:30 this evening. Afterwards it is planned that some of the membership will journey to Santa Ana to join in the meeting being held in Townsend hall.

Don't forget to vote. If you haven't done so, there is still time enough yet, the polls do not close until 7 o'clock tonight. As an American citizen, vested with a franchise privilege, it is your duty to cast your ballot in today's election.

Townsends, don't be slackers, don't let your brothers get into the front line trenches of today's fighting while you yourself sit comfortable at home, not even going to the polls to vote. As a loyal Townsendite you have been taking the Townsend pledge of loyalty to your great leader and his organization. You have also repeatedly said in that pledge, "Therefore I rededicate myself to maintain the democratic spirit and form of government in America."

The democratic spirit and form of government can never be maintained in America by citizens who are not public spirited enough to even vote on election day when it is possible for them to do so. If you haven't voted yet, then prove your interest in Americanism by hurrying to the polls and voting.

America's destiny is being shaped today. Whether the American order of society will endure or be supplanted by a more dictatorial type is being determined. Let's elect men to office who believe in democracy and who are bitterly opposed to any form of government less democratic in type than our present order.

Exercise of the franchise privilege will insure against a dictatorial regime. It's futile to pray that the right to working accord to the dictates of your conscience, the right to freely speak your mind, and the right to voice your opinions in relation to public and other affairs may be preserved to you, and then manifest an inaction that is nothing short of sheer laziness, by not going to the polls to vote.

Townsends and other voters, prove yourselves deserving of the right to enjoy American privileges by going to the polls before 7 o'clock tonight.

The writer called Los Angeles Townsend headquarters today, and has been informed that the situation remains the same, namely, that Townsends follow the previously determined attitude and vote for all the Townsend endorsed candidates, regardless of their political party affiliations. Don't be fooled by radio broadcasts.

Lieutenant Vincent Keran said, and told doctors there that she had slain her mother.

For 24 hours none believed her, thinking she was suffering from delusion. Then neighbors found the mother, Mrs. Christina Piatak, her body pierced by six rifle bullets and her skull beaten in by an iron shoe last.

Detective Keiran said Eva told him her mother had chided her Sunday over her companionship with boys.

"I got mad," he quoted her as saying. "When she turned to reach up into a closet for something I picked up the rifle and shot her in the back."

"She whirled around and I shot her five times more. Then, when she fell down, I grabbed up that thing and hit her."

"I only did that to put her out of her misery."

Police said that Eva, a former mental patient at the Rookland state hospital, had been released at her mother's insistent request.

The order, issued by Federal Judge Harold Louderback, instructed Warden James A. Johnston to produce all such bullet fragments, any shell packet or parts of a shell removed from Franklin's body after he was shot down in an attempted prison break May 23.

The government accuses Franklin and Lucas of killing Guard Royal C. Cline when they attempted to escape with Thomas Limerick, a robber and kidnaper who was killed by Guard Harold Stites.

Defense Attorney Harold Faulkner requested the shell fragments to test the credibility of Stites who was being cross examined when court adjourned Friday until tomorrow morning.

Johnson was also requested to procure tomorrow all medical reports on Franklin, his prison hospital record from May 23 to Nov. 7, and the worksheets of Lucas and Franklin from May 1 to 23 in the model shop from which the escape started. Cline was bludgeoned to death in an adjoining room.

Faulkner said a "shell fragment" was taken from the same shoulder in which Stites testified he shot Franklin at a range of two or three feet. The copper jacketed bullet, Stites testified, was fired from a gun capable of carrying several thousand feet.

This year, 1938, is the hundredth anniversary of the lighthouse rescue story of Grace Darling and her father, whose bravery is celebrated in literature.

FARM BUREAU
DAIRY UNIT'S
BOARD NAMED

Now directors of the Orange County Farm Bureau dairy department, were elected at the annual meeting in farm bureau hall yesterday, with new officers to be named at the next meeting of the directors.

Elmer Ritner, R. F. Hazard, Ned Clinton, J. J. Denni, Stephen Gri-set, E. A. Watkins, William Segerstrom, and Clarence Ranney were the newly-elected directors.

Winners in the cow competition classes were awarded certificates by Elmer Ritner, chairman of the department. Various winners included Ritner, Wilsey Dairy, Otto Fokkers of Talbert, A. C. Murdy of Huntington Beach, Aliso Dairy, Segerstrom Brothers, and Cal-Va Guernsey Dairy.

Annual summary of herds tested during the year by L. W. Garretson showed 40 herds tested, averaging 1467.3 cows, producing an average of 11,223 pounds of milk and 422.4 pounds of butterfat.

Arthur Campbell, assistant farm advisor of San Bernardino county, spoke on the use and management of pastures as a means of reducing dairy costs. Factors entering into the cost of producing market milk were outlined by Wallace Sullivan, farm management specialist, of the University of California.

Several new bulletins issued by the University of California Department of Agriculture are now available at the office of Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg.

Bulletins include "Bovine Trichomoniasis"; "Breeding for Egg Culture"; "Caterpillars Attacking Tomatoes"; "Citrus Enterprise-Efficiency Studies in Southern California"; "The Orange Industry"; "Feeding Poultry"; "Woody Plants for Landscape Use in California."

Mimeographed bulletins recently prepared by the local office are also available. They include "Fertilizing Citrus Trees," "Conservative Cultivation in the Orchard," "Suggestions for Rural Home Ground Improvement," and "Annual Report of the Orange County Cowtesting Association."

Bulletins may be secured upon request.

LITTLE LESSON
IN LAW COSTS
SALLY $100

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Sally Rand paid a $100 fine for "grabbing" two candid camera fans who took pictures of her bubble dance, but left the question of an appeal today to her attorney.

"Even if Miss Rand had been taking a bath before an audience that had paid admission, she would have no right to privacy," commented Municipal Judge C. A. Ballreich yesterday, as he passed sentence.

"She was giving a public exhibition of herself in an artistic pose when the pictures that caused the trouble were taken. It was witnessed by hundreds of persons who had paid admission for the privilege."

He congratulated the jury of nine women and three men, who had convicted her, upon being "beauty proof."

"I found out for the first time that just grabbing a person constituted battery," said Miss Rand. "The legal information is almost worth the $100."

The title "bluest lake in the world" is claimed for Crater Lake, Oregon.

Loyalists Launch Their Own Drive

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier) (AP)—Government troops sought today to counter-balance an insurgent drive on the Ebro river front in northeastern Spain by pushing through hastily-constructed insurgent defenses toward Fraga on the Segre river.

The capture of the villages Alcarraz, Aytona and Seros, south-west of Lerida on the western side of the Segre, was announced in government dispatches. The insurgent resistance was described as weak and several hundred insurgents were reported taken prisoner, although the insurgents announced later they took 1000 government prisoners, caused the attackers to leave 500 dead on the battlefield, and threw back the government assault.

The highway from Zaragoza to Lerida was cut by government soldiers between Lerida and Fraga. Insurgents on the Ebro front methodically tried to wipe out the last vestiges of government resistance on the right bank of the river.

in "Natural Gas towns"

If you have lived in cities where natural gas is not available, you know how much easier it is to keep things clean in Southern California.

Here practically everyone relies on natural gas. And no chimney using natural gas exclusively ever smokes.

Of course, this quality of your household fuel wouldn't mean so much if cleanliness were the only important characteristic. But the advantages of natural gas go beyond cleanliness. It excels all other energies in every way, particularly in that it gives dependable, intense heat at lowest cost!

These advantages are most important when you remember that the new gas appliances bring marvelous convenience plus beauty of design. Why not look over the newest appliances at a dealer's or the gas company? Ask about the easy payment plans.

Council Approves Lease on Tract Near River for Oil Development

BIG COMPANY BELIEVED BACK OF ENTERPRISE

Disagreeing with the opinion of City Attorney L. W. Blodgett, the Santa Ana city council last night approved the leasing of 15 acres at the city dump along the Santa Ana river to W. H. Croddy, local realtor, for oil development.

Terms of the lease call for payment of $450 yearly, plus one-sixth royalty on any oil produced. Blodgett objected that the lease did not give the paramount rights to the city, and said he did not feel the income was sufficient to justify the city "selling away its rights" on the property.

Saying there was no reason for haste, and that the only urgency seemed to be in the minds of the proposed lessees, Blodgett told the council he had not had an opportunity to examine the lease closely.

Asked for his approval of the form of the lease, Blodgett said he had not known the matter was to be brought before the council last night. Croddy said that he had given the city attorney a duplicate of the lease five weeks ago.

Blodgett said he did not favor leasing the property for oil development, and urged the council not to take action at this time.

Councilman Ernest Layton declared the land was lying idle and was not being used, and that drilling for oil would not interfere with the operation of the city dump. The council finally voted that the oil lease be approved, with two minor changes, upon approval of the form by the city attorney.

Croddy, who explained he did not wish to "put anything over" on the council, agreed to changing the forfeiture period from 90 to 60 days, and for insertion of a responsibility clause freeing the city from liability in the event of fires or other damage.

It was indicated Croddy plans to re-lease the property to major oil companies for drilling.

INSTRUCTORS TO AID DUVALL

Dr. John C. Duvall of Rochester university, New York, leading the second in his series of adult civic education discussions tomorrow night, will be assisted by three instructors from the Santa Ana Junior college faculty.

The meeting will be held in the Little Theater at the Santa Ana High school. The Little Theater entrance is the most westerly in the group of buildings at 520 West Walnut street. The meetings were formerly held at the Willard Junior High school.

Duvall will face a cross-fire of informed opinion during the panel discussion, it was announced. Orville M. Knutsen, Dr. Kyle A. Lyon, Dr. Kramer J. Rohlfleish, of the junior college faculty, are students of international affairs, and all have traveled extensively in Europe.

Last week for his opening talk Duvall discussed "What Next in Europe?"

Iron Works Loses Wine Filter Suit

Mrs. M. A. Turner, proprietor of the Santa Ana Iron Works, today lost a $680 superior court judgment to Giovanni Monaci, winery operator of Garvey.

Monaci had sued Mrs. Turner over a wine filter which he claimed was faulty at the time her firm delivered it to him. Superior Judge Raymond McIntosh of Sierra county, who sat here in July, filed the decision in superior court yesterday. Mrs. Turner's cross-complaint for the cost of the filter was denied.

Police Officer Who Failed to Protect Wife From Assault at Hands of Another Woman Dismissed by Action of Council

H. E. Holmes, Santa Ana police officer accused of misconduct of duty, was dismissed from the police department and the classified civil service today after the city council approved a recommendation by the civil service commission.

Holmes, accused of failing to protect his former wife from assault and battery at the hands of another man, had been suspended from the department by Police Chief Floyd Howard pending investigation of the charges.

Handbill Ordinance Stands; Council Will Not Change It

The battle of petitions over the question of repealing the city handbill ordinance apparently was at an end today.

A committee of councilmen appointed by Mayor Fred Rowland reported last night on its study of the repeal request. It was the unanimous opinion of the committee that no amendment or repeal of the present ordinance is desired.

Any changes in the ordinance would be for the purpose of strengthening, rather than weakening it, the committee reported.

Another petition carrying 176 names requesting repeal of the controversial measure was received.

Property Stolen Here in One Month Totals $2057.69

Theft in Santa Ana was evidently a paying business last month.

Police Chief Floyd Howard in his report to the city council said value of property stolen in Santa Ana last month totaled $2057.69. Property valued at $878.40 was covered by the police department.

Four automobiles were stolen, and three of those were returned safely to the owner. Five bicycles were stolen and three recovered, Howard said.

City Judge J. G. Mitchell re-

Poolroom Age Limit Would Be Changed by This Measure

Eighteen-year-olds may soon be admitted to Santa Ana poolrooms legally, if a proposed ordinance now before the city council is adopted.

Passed for second reading last night was a measure lowering the minimum age requirement from 21 to 18 years of age. Under the present ordinance, which has been on the books for several years, no one under 21 can enter a poolroom in Santa Ana.

City Attorney L. W. Blodgett proposed the ordinance after con-

Proposed Extension of City Civil Service Is Protested

Protest against the proposed extension of civil service to cover all city employees, addition to police and fire departments, was filed with the city council last night.

A letter, signed Gordon M. Heinke, asked that decision on the civil service question be decided

The civil service commission—meeting as a trial board for the first time since the civil service ordinance was adopted nearly six months ago—recently recommended that Holmes be dismissed.

The recommendation, drawn by Civil Service Commissioners George A. Parker, Phil Brown, and Clyde Ashen, was laid before the city council two weeks ago. The council refused to take action immediately, in order to allow Holmes to appear to make any statement.

and filed with the council last night, adding to the nearly 500 names already registered for or against the move.

The repeal movement was launched with the filing of a petition carrying 128 names. This was quickly followed by several other petitions, carrying 304 names, demanding that the council do not amend or repeal the handbill law.

The committee report, made by Mayor Rowland, was accepted and filed by the council. The handbill ordinance, adopted more than six months ago, prohibits the free distribution of circulars and handbills in Santa Ana.

Valuation of plumbing work done last month totaled $15,391, with $261 being collected in fees, it was reported by Inspector Harry Crove.

Electrical permits for the month totaled $232.05 in fees, according to Inspector W. O. Packard.

Fees collected for building permits totaled $668.10, Building Inspector H. O. Rasmussen said in his monthly report.

Minimum age limit in surrounding Orange county cities is lower than Santa Ana's, Blodgett said, with the result that local young folks go to other cities for entertainment.

This sometimes results, he told the council, in the young people being drawn into undesirable places over which Santa Ana has no control.

Final hearing on the proposed ordinance will be held at the next meeting of the council, Nov. 21.

The council received a $224.75 check from the Pacific Electric Railway company for amount due under the franchise ordinance for the year ending Nov. 7.

Application of Matilda McQuaid for special use permit covering erection of a duplex on Grand avenue between Washington and Seventeenth streets was granted.

Petition of the State Veterans Welfare board for cancellation of taxes now appearing on tax records as a lien against property owned by the board in Santa Ana was denied by the council. In its request, the welfare board stated that such petitions have been granted by practically all other cities.

Application of N. C. Nelson, 501 South Ross, for change in zone from single family to apartment house district was deferred for two weeks by the planning commission, while a committee studies the application. Application of Emmett C. Rogers for changing of zone at Oak street and Grand street from apartment house to single family residence was also deferred two weeks.

The council was invited to attend a meeting of the Plasterers and Contractors association at Dangler's cafe next Monday evening "to discuss several matters of importance."

Announcement was made today by Mrs. Golden Weston, head of the Santa Ana Adult Education, of a series of radio talks being given weekly by Dr. Gertrude Laws.

Dr. Laws, head of the Parent Education Bureau in the state department of education, is well known in Santa Ana. Mrs. Weston said. For three years Dr. Laws has conducted educational forums and has lectured. Each year Dr. Laws visits Santa Ana and gives talks on educational problems.

"Purposes of the broadcasts is to stimulate parent education," Mrs. Weston said, "and they should prove interesting and informative to women in the community."

The broadcasts will be each Wednesday at 1:30 over the Don Lee network and released locally over KVOB. Tomorrow's broadcast will be heard at 1:50, however, Mrs. Weston said.

Chamber To Fete Birthday

A Golden Jubilee banquet celebrating the successful completion of 50 years' continuous service will be held by the Santa Ana chamber of commerce at the American Legion hall Nov. 17.

Because the seating capacity for the event will be limited, President Fred G. Merker announced today, tickets should be obtained from the chamber of commerce office at once.

CULVER TO SPEAK

Principal speaker at the banquet will be Harry C. Culver, the founder of Culver City, later president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and at present director of finance for the Los Angeles chamber of commerce.

Culver will speak on the subject, "California Straight Ahead."

The banquet will be in remembrance of pioneer days in the chamber of commerce and in honor of the founders of the chamber still living.

The chamber was organized as the Santa Ana Board of Trade on August 17, 1888. On March 13, 1893, it became the Orange County chamber of commerce. It took the title Santa Ana chamber of commerce February 2, 1898.

FIRST TO AID FARMERS

Secretary Howard I. Wood pointed out the service of the chamber to Santa Ana and Orange county has been continuous over the 50-year period.

The first organized efforts for the promotion of agriculture were carried out through the chamber. By strenuous efforts, 4000 acres of land were signed up to raise sugar beets, this resulting in the building of a $400,000 plant at Los Alamitos.

Later leaders paved the way for the gradual growth of walnut growing and citrus. Concurrently with agricultural promotion, the chamber promoted development of business, streets, highways, construction of buildings, according to President Merker.

L. B. WOMAN HELD IN JAIL

Mrs. Arlene Mackro, 34, Long Beach housewife, was booked at the county jail on drunk driving charges yesterday following arrest by California Highway patrolmen.

Henry H. Reader, 25, of Norwalk, began a 35½ day sentence on a drunk driving charge filed in Fullerton.

Booked at the jail early today was Bud Thomas, 21, arrested by sheriff's officers yesterday on a charge of stealing gasoline from the Fowler and Sons garage plant at Orange.

Fred Murray, 39, 117 North Lyon street, began a 150-day term in the county jail on an assault and battery charge brought against him at Huntington Beach.

18 Reservations Still Open for Hollywood Trip

Eighteen reservations were still open today for boys who want to participate in the annual Y. M. C. A. Hollywood field day visit this Saturday. Santa Ana will be represented at the event by 100 boys over 12 years of age.

According to "Y" officials those wishing to take the trip should make reservations at the "Y" office immediately.

A total of 2500 boys from Southern California will be present at the affair. Listed on the day's activities include a motion picture at Grauman's Chinese theater, luncheon at the Hollywood High school and the football game between U. C. L. A. and the University of Wisconsin.

Newman Club to Add 40 Students

About forty Santa Ana Junior college students will be formally initiated into the jaycee chapter of the Newman club, Catholic youth organization, at 7:30 tonight in the St. Joseph school hall, Stafford and Lacy streets.

The Pasadena club will conduct the induction rites, according to Jack Murphy, president of the local chapter.

Following the initiation refreshments will be served.

They'll Strut in Orange

SIX MAJORETTES TO LEAD S. A. HIGH SCHOOL BAND IN PARADE

Santa Ana will be well represented at the annual Orange county Armistice day celebration Friday when the high school band, led by six majorettes, will march in the parade at Orange.

Marching of the local school band and majorettes will mark one of several appearances it has made during the year, according to Director Kenneth Hieges. The group has already participated in the annual Anaheim Halloween celebration, and plans call for participation in other events this year, Hieges said.

The six majorettes—Dorothy Parker, Betty Haynes, Harriet Spicer, Anita Potter, Betty DeGunter, and Carroll Brinkerhoff—have brought considerable publicity to Santa Ana as a result of their baton twirling. Last year pictures of the majorettes appeared in a national magazine, giving details of their work.

The majorettes in conjunction with the band, and school drill team has provided half-time entertainment at the local high school football games, and have been well received.

Charles Langenberger, son of Anaheim's first merchant, left his $4000 estate to a friend, Julian R. Cruz of Anaheim, it was revealed today as Mr. Langenberger's will was filed for probate.

The will was made Oct. 31, just one day before his death in Orange county hospital.

The estate, according to Cruz's petition as executor, consists of a 2.44-acre citrus ranch near Placentia. Mr. Langenberger's will recited that he was a widower, his wife having died 50 years ago, and had no children. Three sisters were intentionally omitted from the will, it recited, because he had neither seen nor heard from them in 40 years.

FARM BUREAU MEMBERS TO ATTEND MEET

A delegation of at least 30 members of the Orange county farm bureau will attend the state convention of the California Farm Bureau Federation at Sacramento Nov. 13 to 17, it was announced today by Executive Secretary C. J. Marks.

The program of the convention will open with a sacred concert Sunday evening at which at least 10 of the local members of the farm bureau chorus will join with singers gathered from all parts of California to form a chorus numbering nearly 300 voices.

Many local members, Marks announced, are interested chiefly in the program for Monday which features commodity group meetings at which the program for the farm bureau during 1939 will be outlined.

Tuesday and Wednesday will be devoted to general session business with prominent speakers discussing chiefly marketing problems. Medical care will be discussed, with speakers from government departments and from the California Medical Association scheduled.

The convention will close Thursday with the election of officers for the following year.

Those already planning to attend the convention from this county include William Ritter, Tustin; Robert Knapp, Anaheim; W. S. Boone, Orange; Charles Armstrong, R. W. Hull and A. H. Heinemann of Orange; Rose Stanford and Georgia Farren, Santa Ana; J. W. Crill, Anaheim; F. S. Latham, Tustin; J. A. Baker, Anaheim; Andrew Smiley, Garden Grove; C. J. Marks, Santa Ana.

Others are Messrs. and Mesdames H. E. Wahlberg, R. J. Mueller and A. F. Schroeder, Santa Ana; A. A. Fischer, Anaheim; W. O. Broady, Garden Grove; H. H. Gardner, Orange; S. W. Stanley, Tustin; C. W. Musser, Garden Grove; Mrs. L. P. Halderman of Anaheim, and Mrs. George Lyon, Anaheim.

JAPANESE HALFBACK OF CHAFFEY WORRIES DONS

Kobi Shoji, flashy Japanese halfback, is one of the mainstays of Chaffey Jaycee's unbeaten grid machine which rolls into the Municipal bowl Friday night.

He will be the ball-carrier on Dons must stop if Santa Ana must upset over Burt Helsers Ontario club. The Santa Ana line has held up exceptionally well this season, and may be able to check Mr. Shoji, who was dynamite in Chaffey's 18 to 0 victory over Fullerton at Ontario last Friday.

The hard-running Japanese rambled 45 yards to an opening touchdown against Fullerton. He's not only an offensive threat. He's a bear-cat on defense. For instance, Aubrey Minter, Fullerton's fleet negro quarterback, broke away on a 68-yard run. Shoji outran him, and tackled Minter on Chaffey's 13-yard line.

Perry Maynard, Fullerton scribe covering the game, heralded Chaffey as one of the best teams he has ever seen in the Eastern conference.

"They're big and tough, and have beautiful blocking," Maynard said. He could not compare Chaffey with San Bernardino because Fullerton has not met the latter team. The Yellowjackets go to San Bernardino Friday night.

SANTA ANA BIDDING FOR VISIT BY NOTRE DAME

Knights of Columbus lodge in Santa Ana has extended an invitation to the Notre Dame squad to visit Orange county following the Irish's football game with U. S. C. in Memorial Coliseum Dec. 3.

The plan, as previously announced on this page, would be to pick up Coach Elmer Layden and several of his players in Santa Ana cars in Los Angeles, and take them on a tour of Orange county. They would be special guests at a football banquet in Santa Ana. We hope Layden accepts the invitation.

REACHING DEEP DOWN INTO SPORTS BARREL

Minor league baseball, from an attendance standpoint, made a real comeback throughout the nation during the past season. . . . Thirty-seven minor leagues reported a total attendance of 15,500,000, representing an increase of 2,000,000 over last year's figures.

It won't be long now until Orange county's high schools and junior colleges will be turning their attention to basketball. . . . The Santa Ana "Y" league already is in full swing, and the Concordia club of Orange is tuning up for another busy schedule.

Eastern J. C. conference football critics believe Santa Ana's Dons will have a better chance of upsetting Fullerton Thanksgiving day at Fullerton than beating Chaffey's powerhouse outfit here Friday.

Dons Shift Joy and Beck to New Backfield Roles

COOK JUGGLES LINEUP FOR CHAFFEY TILT

Searching for a more effective backfield combination, Coaches Bill Cook and John Ward will continue to experiment in drill today and tomorrow for Santa Ana Jaycee's stiff football encounter with Chaffey here Friday night.

The game, originally scheduled for the afternoon, has been set for 7:30 p. m. to avoid conflict with Armistice day celebrations in both Ontario and Orange. The Santa Ana American Legion drum and bugle corps will perform at half-time, it was announced today by D. K. Hammond, director of Santa Ana Junior college.

JOY AT QUARTERBACK
Now that the ailing Jimmy Nunez has rejoined the Dons, Carroll Joy, left end, has been shifted to quarterback, and Rollo Beck, halfback, is being tried in a ball-carrying role at fullback. Joy and Beck, if they click today and tomorrow, will see much action in their new roles against unbeaten Chaffey here. Joy played halfback at Santa Ana High school.

Gil Bristow, former Tustin prep who is Jack Lentz' understudy at center, is lost for the season. He underwent an appendicitis operation last week-end.

A special cast will be placed on the broken hand of Cy Leivermann, six-foot-six tackle, and there is a possibility he will play part-time against Chaffey. Gil Nehrig, the Dons' other first-string tackle who is favoring a knee injury, returned to practice yesterday, but did not scrimmage. Quarterback Don Borden is being held back by an injured ankle.

TICKETS ON SALE
Tickets for the Santa Ana-Chaffey clash may be obtained tomorrow and Thursday at Neal's Sporting Goods store or Al's Lock and Key shop. . . . In an Eastern conference meeting at Ontario last night, Oct. 6 was set for the opening of the 1939 conference football season, although no schedule was drawn. . . . Basketball practice will begin the week following Thanksgiving.

SAINTS DRILL LIGHTLY FOUR GAMES NEXT WEEK

Santa Ana High school's football machine will take a brief rest this week after a workout on Clayton field tomorrow afternoon. A scrimmage had been scheduled for the reserves this afternoon, followed by tomorrow's practice, and then a lay off until Monday.

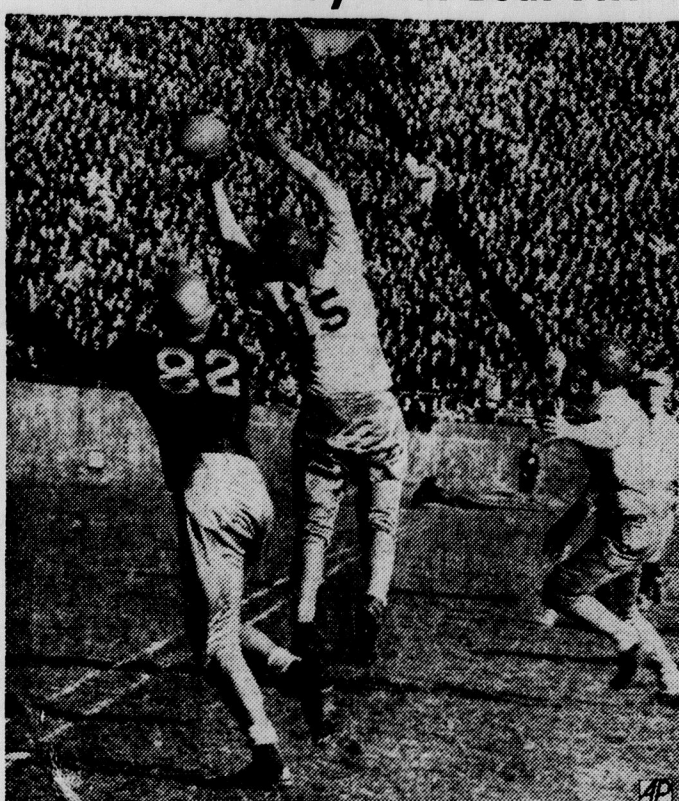

The Saints encounter San Bernardino Friday, Nov. 18, in their last Citrus Belt league game in the Municipal bowl.

Washington's Pros Average 302 Yards In Eight Contests

NEW YORK. (AP)—Although their brightest star is Pitcher Sam Rice, the Washington Redskins have compiled the best ground-gaining average in the National Pro Football league largely by the time-tested method of juggling the ball overland. In eight games, the Redskins have gained 2419 yards for an average of 302 yards per game. They have completed only 47 per cent of their passes, however, 81 out of 169 attempted. The New York Giants have the best passing average, 69 completions in 130 attempts or 33 per cent.

The bright colored canyons and formations in Zion National Park, Utah, were originally named Zion by religious-minded Mormons.

This Is The Play That Beat Pitt

This is the way Carnegie made its second touchdown in the game against unbeaten Pittsburgh in the second period for an astounding 20 to 10 upset victory. Carnegie Tech's win broke the Panthers' string of 22 consecutive wins. Above: Carnegie's pass bounce out of Chickernoe's (15) hands into the arm of Striegel (22), behind the goal for Carnegie's second touchdown. The game was played at Pittsburgh.

U. C. L. A. AWAITS WISCONSIN Trojans Point for Huskies

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Warned by Coach Howard Jones that "the Huskies may be tougher than the Bears," Southern California's Rose Bowl hopefuls scrimmaged today against Washington plays.

"The biggest thing you have to fear now is overconfidence," the Trojan mentor said. "Washington is just developing into the stride it should have reached early in the season. Let's be ready for the Huskies."

Ray George and Tony Tonelli were the only regulars limping as a result of last Saturday's upset win over California. The Trojan squad of 37 players and 100 rooters will leave by special train tomorrow night for Seattle, stopping en route at Sacramento Thursday.

BERKELEY. (AP)—California's Golden Bears, slapped down by the University of Southern California Trojans as they sought their 19th straight win, are not going to be jugged, Coach Stubb Allison announced today.

It will be the same lineup when the Bears take the field against the University of Oregon Saturday at Berkeley.

A far from downhearted Allison observed: "It wasn't a case of mistakes or bad football. We just ran into more power than we could handle."

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—U.C.L.A.'s gridiron unlimbered travel kinks today, studied Wisconsin plays and began figuring out ways and means of stopping the Badger juggernaut in the Coliseum here next Saturday.

Wisconsin's defeat of Northwestern last week-end, while the Bruins were taking Washington State in stride, added considerable class to the coming intersectional game of the victors.

PALO ALTO. (AP)—The number 13 has Coach Tiny Thornhill of Stanford worried. The Stanford, much battered footballers, go to Corvallis this Saturday to meet Oregon State college for the 13th time. Oregon State has never beaten the Indians.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Coach Tom Lieb divided his Loyola university team into a four-man line and seven-man backfield today for defensive scrimmage against Baylor aerial maneuvers.

It was Texas Christian's use of only a four-man forward wall against Baylor two weeks ago that was credited with smothering the tosses of the Bears' star passer, Billy Patterson. "That's good enough for us," said Lieb, whose eleven plays Baylor here Friday.

Even the absence of championship atmosphere cannot detract from the setting—the Maroons, taught by the grand old man of football for 41 years, opposing Stagg and his College of Pacific eleven.

The gridiron opposition is as far as the issue will go and then it will not go as far as the usual football battle which finds opponents parked on opposite sides of the field. Next Saturday, Stagg and his eleven will have a place of honor on the same side of the gridiron as Chicago.

But the Pacific team may not be a bit bashful about the honor. Its well balanced squad defeated Fresno State 18 to 13 last week and may upset Chicago's victory plans as well.

In neighboring Evanston, Northwestern was recovering today from a terrific letdown in play

FERNIE BACA GIVEN NOD IN DULL BOUT

By KENNETH ADAMS

A boxing match without many exciting moments was staged at the Orange County Athletic club last night by Santa Ana's Fernie Baca and Joe Rock, from Long Beach, Baca being given a decision many thought was unearned.

Baca had trouble reaching Rock, who is a clever boy himself. Neither one landed any telling blows, and Baca probably was given the decision because he was the aggressor. Baca's punches seemed to lack the zip he has shown in his last few matches.

Wayne Penn, the blond bomber from Long Beach, and Tino Sanchez, Los Angeles, staged one of the best fights of the evening, with Penn being handed an unpopular decision. The first two rounds were fairly even, the second frame being featured by an old-time slugger bee. Penn took the third round, but Sanchez got his range in the fourth and knocked him down twice.

Johnny Frietas, Wilmington, won over Chuck Laws, L. A. negro, in the semi-final. The third round was featured by a battle after the bell, and the fourth round saw Frietas knock the negro through the ropes.

John Taylor, Los Angeles negro, won decision over Paul Garcia, Wilmington. Garcia was hit low by Taylor in the second round, slowing up the Mexican, who was down for a nine-count in the third.

Negro PeeWee Davis blasted out a decision over Gil Lopez, game Wilmington Mexican, in an exciting free-for-all. Lopez was down in the first round. Both boys fell down in the second and fourth.

Benny Garcia, Santa Ana, displayed more than usual slugging ability in winning over Chuck Wilcox, Long Beach. It was a brawl while it lasted, Garcia winning by a technical knockout in the second.

Gene Penn, Seal Beach, knocked out Rudy Brady, Wilmington, in the fourth. Buddy Spencer, L. A. enough for us," said Lieb, whose eleven plays Baylor here Friday.

Even the absence of championship atmosphere cannot detract from the setting—the Maroons, taught by the grand old man of football for 41 years, opposing Stagg and his College of Pacific eleven.

The gridiron opposition is as far as the issue will go and then it will not go as far as the usual football battle which finds opponents parked on opposite sides of the field. Next Saturday, Stagg and his eleven will have a place of honor on the same side of the gridiron as Chicago.

SPORTS Roundup

By SID FEDER
(Pinch-Hitting for Brietz)

NEW YORK. (AP)—Don't be surprised if Texas Christian's first "Bowl" job is right here in L.A. Ole New York Dec. 10. It'll be the "eastern bowl" game for charity and is already underwritten by a syndicate of Wall street men. . . . Carnegie, Dartmouth, Duke, Pitt, Tennessee, Santa Clara and Notre Dame are also on the list. . . . No. 1 deal of the major league meetings probably will send Cecil Thavis from Washington to Detroit. . . . with Elden Auker also figuring.

Sammy Snead is gonna have his hands full against the classy field they've put together for the White Sulphur Springs open that gets under way today. Don't Bush is ailing— for which all his pals are sorry. . . . Out at little Gonzaga U. on the coast, they have two backs who chafed up runs of better than 100 yards this season. . . . Jim McGuire ran for 101 against Idaho and Tony Canadeo did it for 105 against Washington State.

After clearing up the welterweight business, Henry Armstrong will defend his lightweight crown in February. . . . and Hurricane Lou Ambers, the ex-champ, will be the challenger. . . . Mary Ralph Helkinnen, Michigan guard, down in your little black book for All-American reference. . . . Manhattan's gridders will tell you this "Ty" Coon of North Carolina State is another linesman who beats the ball into the other fellow's backfield nine times out of ten.

Fred Thomsen would like it a lot if football games were only 59 minutes long. . . . His Arkansas Razorbacks lost to Baylor, Texas Aggies and Rice this season all in the last 60 seconds. . . . And Baylor and Rice did the same thing to the Porks last year, too. . . . Hope you folks noticed this corner called that Ray Blades-as-Cardinals' manager shot last Wednesday.

Congrats to Bucky Harris—42 today. . . . Will one of our Pittsburgh scouts please check the report around here that Biggie Goldberg may be all through for the season. . . . Did Herman Taylor, the Philly promoter, take between three and four G's to settle any claim on John Henry Lewis' services? . . . Jai Alai hasn't been such a howling success at the Hippodrome recently, so Mike Jacobs is cutting it down to five nights a week. . . . With boxing returning here and there, you may be on the opening card. . . . This Shad Bryant, Clemson's little man, is another 160-pound who can carry the mail. . . . Averaged 6.4 yards in 29 cracks at the line and gained 398 yards running back-kicks and 204 receiving passes. . . . Fred Apostoli is working out with outpawners in training for Young Corbett. . . . Old Man Pneumonia didn't hurt Tony Galento's tonnage even one little bit. . . . The two-ton guy still tips the beams at a mere 245.

WILLOWICK IN 9-3 VICTORY

Willowick's women golfers soared into a temporary lead in association play by defeating Huntington Beach, 9 to 3, on the Huntington Beach course yesterday. Treesweet continued to lead the pack in the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. basketball league today as the result of a 28-25 victory over Neal's Sporting Goods five last night.

While Treesweet was maintaining its lead, the Famous Department store team made the win column by defeating Southern Counties Gas, 21-15.

Last night's victory was the fourth consecutive win for Treesweet. Irvine and Al's Lock and Key follow with three wins apiece and no losses.

Treesweet was trailing 20-15 at half-time. When the final period got under way, the score was tied, 23-23, but a last minute scoring spree put Treesweet ahead.

A last-half scoring barrage resulted in the Famous' victory.

Big Ten's Ban On Rose Bowl Games Studied

CHICAGO. (AP)—Speculation on the possibility of the Big Ten and the Pacific Coast conference football champions meeting annually in the Rose Bowl game reverberated over the nation's grid fronts again today after an announcement that the Big Ten probably would consider the suggestion at its meeting Dec. 2-3 in Chicago.

Prof. O. F. Long of Northwestern, chairman of the Big Ten faculty committee, said no official proposal had been submitted. He added, however, "I would not be surprised if the matter is brought to the attention of the faculty committee at the December meeting. However, I do not believe the committee will alter the present regulation against post-season football games."

Wendell Wilson, athletic director at the University of Illinois, said he believed there was "a possibility" of the two conference representatives meeting, but added it would be up to the faculty committee. In reply to a question Saturday night in the annual Big Ten club banquet at Memphis, he said he remarked that the suggestion had come from the coast and that it probably would come before the Big Ten next month.

At Los Angeles, Dr. Hugh Willett, president of the Pacific Coast conference, said such a proposal had neither been made to nor by the conference itself.

U.C.L.A. Assistant Coach Ailing With Influenza

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—A. J. Sturzenegger, assistant football coach of U. C. L. A., was treated at Hollywood hospital today for influenza and a leg infection.

The veteran mentor contracted a cold early last week and complications set in after he had attended the Washington State-U. C. L. A. game at Pullman, Wash., played in chilly weather. The leg infection apparently resulted from an injury during grid practice.

NOTRE DAME SECOND AND PITT THIRD

By DREW MIDDLETON

NEW YORK. (AP)—The versatile Texas Christian football team, pride of southwestern football, is the nation's first eleven in the fourth Associated Press poll of sports writers. The Irish of Notre Dame are a scant 16 points behind in second place.

Pittsburgh, leader in three previous polls, fell to third while Carnegie Tech, the Panthers' master Saturday, rose to sixth place as a result of its triumph. The Skibos were tied for 20th a week ago.

Texas Christian, second last week, received 48 votes for first place and a point total of 986. The Irish had 970 points and 41 ballots for first place. In all 117 Texas Christian, high number for the season, participated.

Southern California and Oklahoma, ninth and tenth, were other newcomers to the ranking ten. California, beaten by the Trojans, Northwestern downed by Wisconsin, and Stanford by Washington State. Mary's gave way in the first group.

The leads: (First place votes bracketed, points score on 10-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis)

Team	Points
Texas Christian (48).....	986
Notre Dame (41).....	970
Pittsburgh (14).....	790
Tennessee (6).....	697
Dartmouth (3).....	643
Carnegie Tech.....	519
Duke.....	389
Santa Clara.....	379
Southern California (2).....	359
Oklahoma (1).....	194

Second ten: Holy Cross 166, Minnesota 163, Fordham 86, California 62, Wisconsin (1) 32, Alabama 31, Northwestern 29, Michigan 18, Villanova 17, Cornell 16.

As for the ranking of the teams to the form chart, the ranking has flattened out for the first time this season. The Horned Frogs play Texas, deep in a mediocre season, and there appears little chance for an upset. But the storm warnings are flying for the rest.

Notre Dame takes on the first of three formidable foes, Minnesota. Pittsburgh, with Marshall Goldberg on the sidelines, faces Nebraska which should be hot at least once this season. Tennessee has an old foe in Vanderbilt and last week's records show these traditional rivals are the toughest to lick—ask Pitt.

Dartmouth must face Cornell, beaten only once. Carnegie Tech meets its second city rival, Duquesne, and faces the inevitable let down after a remarkable victory.

Duke, possessed of the season's most remarkable record—unbeaten, untied and unscored upon, the only such standard in the first ten—meets Syracuse, a team that has alternately been very good and very bad.

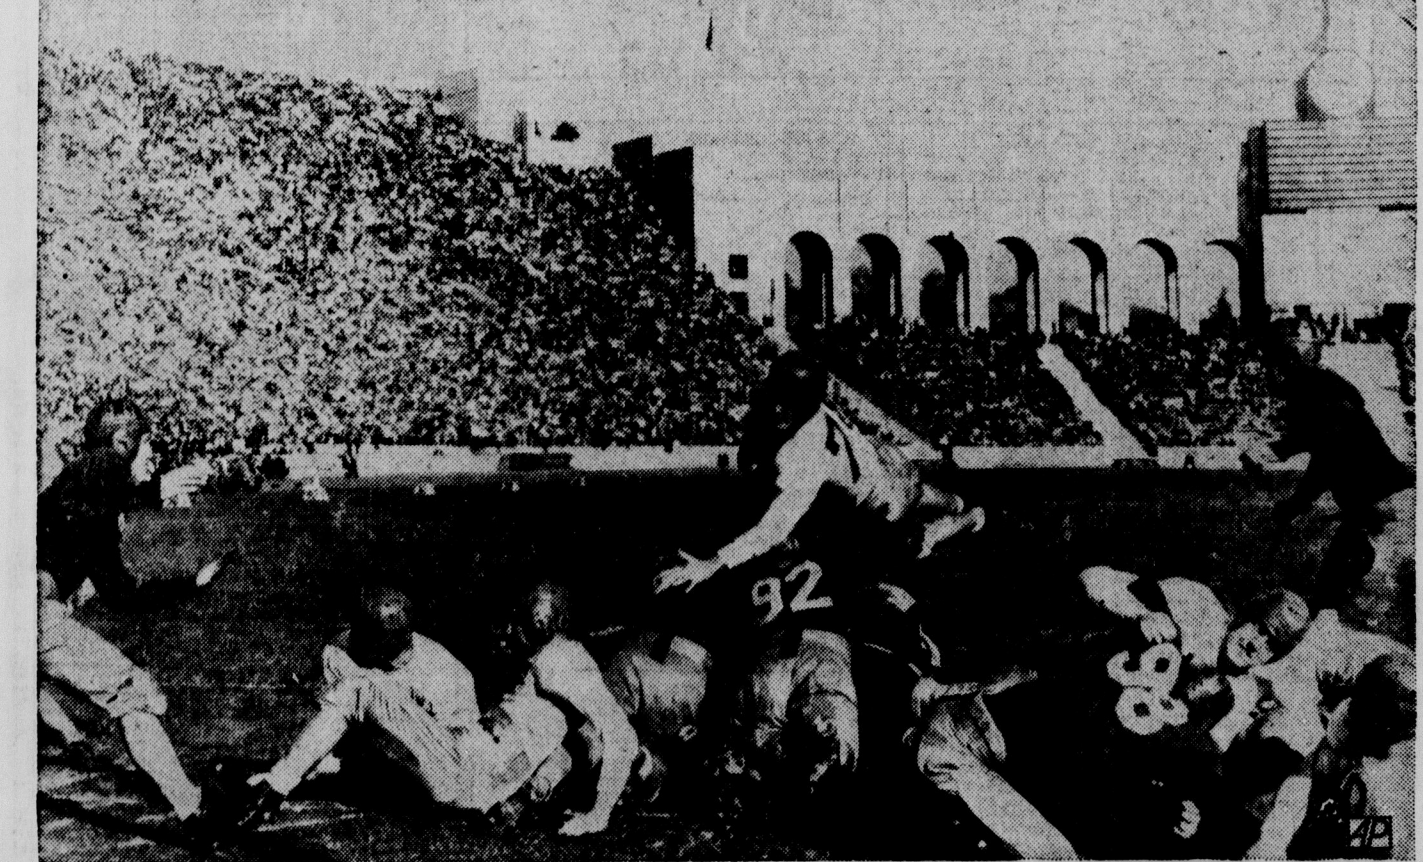

Santa Clara has been losing ground steadily and Sunday's one touchdown win over San Francisco was a poor omen for the battle with a strong St. Mary's team next Sunday. Southern California has Washington, desperate for a victory, and Oklahoma has a good Missouri team to encounter.

Driving and passing to an amazing 13 to 7 upset victory over California, the University of Southern California snapped the winning streak of the Golden Bears before 90,000 wildly cheering fans at the Memorial Coliseum in Los Angeles. Above: California hold the Trojans on the six-inch line. Quarterback Grenville Lansell (78) of Southern California made a diving thrust from the one-yard line for an attempted touchdown in the second quarter, but Vic Bottari (92) of California reached up to stop him on the six-inch line. At right guard Jim McDaniel (98) blocks a Trojan.

INTERNATIONAL TOWNS...
Only a stone's throw from each other, the towns of St. Stephen, New Brunswick, Canada, and Calais, Maine, United States, are each in a country foreign to the other.

Yet, strange as it seems, these two towns work together with remarkable international harmony and cooperation. Public utilities are swapped for mutual benefit. The Canadian town's fire engine, for example, often crosses the international bridge to answer an alarm in Calais, and vice versa. Calais' water supply is piped from St. Stephen. St. Stephen gets its gas from Calais, and Calais gets its electricity from Canada. National holidays are celebrated equally by the Canadians and United States citizens. On Dominion Day, half the population of Calais goes to St. Stephen to celebrate. On the Fourth of July, the Canadians hoist the Stars and Stripes and cross the bridge to set off firecrackers and celebrate the United States' independence of British rule!

Now, Please, Mr. L. A. Times

The mighty Los Angeles Times has been circulating in these parts for a considerable period and ought to know better.

But yesterday, right on page one, near the top of a column it referred to the "Santa Ana wind."

It's not a Santa Ana wind. We decline the honor, Mr. L. A. Times. We would rather call it a Times wind—in fact anything else.

It is no more fair to call that wind a Santa Ana wind than it would be to refer to it as a Long Beach wind or a Riverside wind. It is far from a local breeze, for it was pushing down weak and aging trees and causing wives to talk back at their husbands all over Southern California.

The Times person who referred to it as a Santa Ana wind did so through ignorance or carelessness.

The correct title is Santana, a name of Spanish-Indian origin, in use before California was a state. Terry Stephenson, foremost authority on such matters, says that a literal translation is difficult, the nearest approach being "desert devil wind." More than that, the word "santana" did not even originate in this section, but was first applied to hot winds in Sonora.

As a matter of fact, this wind which shows up every year or so in Southern California should only serve to emphasize the excellence of our climate.

Every section has its unkind wind. Western Nevada has its Washoe zephyr, which plays such pranks as blowing the roof off the University of Nevada library building. The Sacramento valley has its north wind that dries up the fields and causes great damage. Sacramento, you may remember, had a wind last February that pushed over hundreds of 75-year-old trees, blocked practically every street, and tied up everything from San Francisco bay to the top of Donner summit. Mid-westerners now in our community will recall the blasts that lay low fields of ripening grain, nursed to the harvest season through months of patient effort.

Winds? Sure we have winds. Probably we could get along better without the Santana, but if we must have wind we'll keep the Santana and let the Sacramento valley keep its north wind, Kansas her crop destroying blasts of hot air, and Florida her tropical wind, and all that.

But, we still don't like the idea of the Los Angeles Times giving our community all the honor in renaming a wind that is general over a wide territory.

What Japan wants is not peace in China, but a piece of China, and an almighty big piece at that.

A Good Deal All Around

That Sally Rand case was just perfect. Sally, you remember, is the little girl who dances with or without the aid of fans. She engaged in physical encounter a couple of candid camera fans who photographed her when, all admit, she wasn't wearing a fur coat. Well, the camera fans had Sally arrested on a couple of battery charges and the case was tried before a Los Angeles jury. Sally was convicted and yesterday paid a $100 fine.

Yes, the case was a complete success. The camera fans got some measure of revenge. The dignity of the court was upheld. And Sally got her picture in all the newspapers—even some editorials like this one. A million dollars worth of publicity for $100 is a good deal in any man's court.

Seventy-eight years ago, Nevada was admitted to statehood; and doesn't know it yet.

Shout Schicklgruber

There is a theory of history that the development of peoples is a blind and relentless result of their economic affairs, that certain changes are made inevitable by the world of things quite apart from the world of thought and feeling.

What a beating these theorists must have taken on finding that by a mere chance Hitler's father changed the family name from Schicklgruber to Hitler.

Now can anybody seriously maintain that the Germans could have been persuaded in 1933 to shout "Heil, Schicklgruber!" Even the Germans, not notable as a humorous race, would undoubtedly have balked at that.

Let economic determinists play with the idea of the difference it might have made in the world's history if Hitler's father hadn't changed his name.

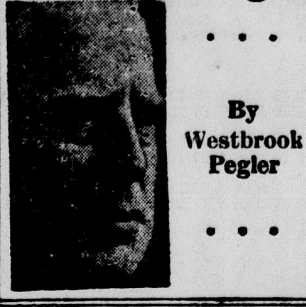

Cleveland has been having a big dairy show in Public Hall and not a cow was stolen.

Speaking of Sport

A halfback, dropped from the Louisiana State University football squad, charges the reason was that he told his fellow players they needed a labor union to protect them against overwork and long hours.

This will strengthen the suspicion of many people that football is more toil than play. We don't know what it would do to the romantic features of the great American college game if all the teams were organized by the CIO or the AFL. But we're pretty sure that football wouldn't be as completely deglamorized as bull fighting has been in republican Spain, where it is announced that, for reasons of economy, toradors hereafter are to fight in overalls and take their pay in meat from the bulls they kill.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler

NEW YORK.—At the risk of seeming hopelessly naive I wonder if any good could come of a proposal once advanced by Mrs. Roosevelt that people try to understand one another and their problems in times of temper and touchy pride. We and the Germans have tried everything else in the clash of ideals which has been tending toward a sub of interests and national vanity. Short of actual invasion of that which we deem to be our sphere, whether by force or by political stealth, there would seem to be a chance of our learning to get along mutually.

For more than a hundred years we have got along with the British, whose arrogance toward the United States is not yet matched by anything that the Germans have said to us. The Germans have been rude, it is true. But we managed to keep peace with Great Britain at times when the British were fond of saying out loud that the only thing that saved us from a damned good hiding by their fleet and soldiers was John Bull's lofty tolerance of our impudence. We are truculent enough ourselves, and it was not by deliberate and noble searching for a basis of peace with honor that we escaped trouble.

DIFFERENT NOW

But things are different now, and wars are so terrible that we could lose nothing by an effort to discover in the nature of this new Germany some of those human traits which people of the same racial stock have revealed as citizens, friends, neighbors and relatives in the United States.

These traits seem to be utterly suppressed in Germany as a state, but is it not past believing that they are extinct in the people? That can be observed in individuals in Germany at moments when they are off parade, and the problem suggested by Mrs. Roosevelt's proposal would be to reach them and see what makes them tick and let them understand what makes Americans tick, too. I don't mean to invite nazi propaganda, but it would be censorship of the most evil kind to withhold from the American public knowledge of the thoughts and feelings of the German people which might give us to understand them patiently, and the lack of which might wrong us both.

To distinguish between nazi propaganda and honest information would be difficult and, of course, the anti-German bunds would be out, but the Steuben societies seem to be sincere and might be given a hearing. The trouble then would be to obtain a hearing for the American people with German people, and under their censorship that seems impossible, but there is nothing wrong with the idea.

REVERSE ENGLISH

Their leaders have reversed themselves more startlingly before this. Only a couple of years ago they were schooling their adults as well as the children in a belief that the Italian's savoring complexion was imported from Africa, and look what chums the Germans and Italians are now! Maybe that is Hitler's idea of a joke. He is hard to understand sometimes.

In the excitement of these days we forget that Britain and France, too, have fought a few predatory and political wars in the life of this country and that our idealism didn't reach the boiling point. And, if it comes to that, what is the difference, except in dates, between the acquisition of parts of the British and French empires and Mussolini's conquest of Abyssinia? To be sure, there was the League of Nations, but it was a league which we could have no part of at best.

JIM WINS

Jim and his wife were strolling around the fair last week, when they came to the man with a small monkey in a big cage. The man was barking out: "Pay your cents and try to tie the rope around the monkey! He is guaranteed gentle and will not bite. A dollar to the man who ties the rope on the monkey within three minutes!"

Jim stepped up, paid his dime, took the rope, and entered the cage. After a lively chase he finally cornered the monkey and was about to tie the rope on him when he realized that he had dropped the rope at the other end of the cage. He was obliged to let go the monkey while he regained the rope.

Muttering that he would fix things better this time, he tied the rope around his own waist and started after the monkey again, but was surprised to have the barker open the cage door and hand him a dollar bill, saying, "You win," amid the howls of laughter from the crowd.—Christian Science Monitor.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

NOV. 8, 1913
A. F. Griffin, special agent for Southern California of the Continental Casualty company, was in the city this morning on business, but found time to talk on the Mexican situation as viewed by one who left Vera Cruz but a few weeks ago after a residence of three years in the capital.

A burglary was committed at an early hour this morning upon the premises of Uttley and Mead, at 117 East Fourth street. A trunk, a dozen suits of clothes, underwear, and one or more hats, are known to have been part of the booty, and other things may also turn up missing.

The Villa Park Orchards association today had issued a call for bids on a new $15,000 packing house. Construction will start immediately and the building will be ready for occupancy, it is hoped, by the latter part of April or the first of March, next.

Science News

(Copyright, 1938, by Science Service)
WASHINGTON.—(Special)—Japan's invasion of south China, commenced by the landing of troops at Bias Bay, a historic and notorious pirate hangout, is aimed directly at one of the richest provinces in China.

Kwangtung province, in which are located, in addition to Bias Bay, Swatow and Canton, possesses important deposits of coal, iron, antimony, tungsten ore, silver, tin and light minerals, a survey here indicated.

One of the most advanced of the 18 provinces of China proper, it has a population of more than 36,000,000 almost all of whom are Cantonese, famous throughout China as the hardiest and most vigorous of Chinese millions.

Because of heavy British and French investments in Kwangtung and Kwangsi, neighboring province to the west, and elsewhere in south China, and because of the proximity of British Hong Kong, the "light little isle" of the east, and of France's weak-protector colony, Indo-China, the invasion may lead to more serious international complications than have attended the Sino-Japanese war thus far.

Kwangtung has been the world's chief source of wolframite, ore from which tungsten metal is extracted. Tungsten finds wide use in the manufacture of filaments for electric light bulbs and in alloy steels. Tungsten is not, however, as important today for alloying purposes as it once was because of the rise of molybdenum as a rival. Three quarters of the world's molybdenum supply comes from the United States.

Iron ore deposits in the province are said to be large, though they have never been worked by modern methods. Small amounts of lead, gold, mercury and zinc are also found. All of these minerals must surely be turning to the resources-poor Japanese.

Canton and Swatow, the province's two leading cities, are among the most modern cities in China. It is through Canton, and the railways that connect it with Kowloon on the one end and Hankow on the other, that much of China's munitions have come. Kowloon is a peninsula of the mainland opposite the island of Hong Kong; it is also in British possession. Swatow, long a treaty port, is noted for its drawn-thread and embroidery industries.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

(Note to Editors: One free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round goes with the Brass Ring to Viscountess Astor, the American lady, who with her Cliveden set now rules England.)

WASHINGTON.—Most potent governing group in Britain today is not the cabinet, but the little gathering of lords and ladies, newspaper editors and bankers who gather at Cliveden, country estate of Lord Astor, every weekend to drink highballs around a huge fireplace, and discuss the foreign policy of the empire.

This is the Cliveden set, becoming more famous and more powerful month by month.

Cliveden is a baronial estate about 50 miles from London, whose high, ivy-covered towers look down upon the river Thames, whose walls are covered with the American fur-trapping ancestors of the Astors, and whose hostess, Lady Nancy Astor, is founder of talking politics than her Virginia relatives are of talking horses.

Nancy Astor is one of those intensely energetic people who is never happy unless she is making people turn handspindles.

"Now say something amusing, Mr. Shaw," she once commanded the venerable Bernard Shaw, who had been invited to Cliveden to meet the late Sen. Joe Robinson, Secretary of State Stimson, and other Americans.

Shaw's response was a facial expression which clearly read: "Oh, Lord, why did I come?"

When Nancy Astor puts this same energy to work in the field of political relationships, there is no telling what may eventuate.

One of the things that eventuated last November was the visit of Lord Halifax to see Hitler. Another was the Chamberlain journey to see der fuhrer in September.

The Cliveden set has not quite adopted Adolf Hitler as "their leader," but almost. Their feeling toward him is one of mingled admiration and fear. They fear that eventually he will turn against England. But they admire the manner in which he rebuffs Russia.

One reason for the affinity between Hitler and the Cliveden set is the fact that most of them are Christian Scientists. When Hitler first seized power in Germany, one of the Clivedenites visited the new chancellor and persuaded him to exempt Christian Science from nazi religious persecution.

Not long ago, Robert Seton-Watson, prominent British writer, described the Cliveden set as "a mixture of Christian Science and African gold."

LORD LOTHIAN
The gold is represented by Lord Lothian, who is secretary of the Rhodes trust for educating Americans at Oxford, and whose family inherited vast gold fields in South Africa. Himself educated in a Jesuit school, he rebelled, but was converted to Christian Science, but still has the Jesuitical manner of thinking.

Lothian makes frequent visits to Hitler, and the notes of these conversations, which he has shown to friends, indicates that he considers himself spiritually affiliated with the German dictator.

Lord Lothian began life as Philip Kerr, secretary to Lloyd George was considered a great liberal. He now carries tremendous weight with the cabinet, is a sort of minister without portfolio.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion, The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag. Please limit communications to 350 words. The editor reserves the right to shorten all letters in excess of that length.

WORLD POKER GAME

To the Editor: Apparently the world must re-arm until it is bankrupt in order to be able to disarm. Perhaps this will be better for civilization in the long run, because by so doing, the old slogan of might makes right will be definitely proven to be correct in our day and age, for it so happens that the peace-loving nations of the earth have more money and materials to re-arm with than the warlike and aggressor nations.

So, like a player in a poker game who has spent a great portion of his money in the game and does not want to quit, he gambles the balance of his holdings trying to gain back what he has already lost. So let's compare this poker game to the family of nations. Nations have already spent too much to back down now, and will continue to spend until their tills are empty, or war is declared and ended. And since the balance of wealth is in favor of the democracies of the world, the democracies should build two ships to one, two guns to one, and send two men to one against the warlike and aggressor nations until their tills and sources of supply are exhausted. Then the aggressor nations will send their emissaries to us, seeking peace and our good-will. Then we can have world peace.

If the democracies of the world re-arm to the full extent of their financial capacities there will be no war, because they will be able to stay the hand, and put into place the warlike and aggressor nations by the modern method of bluff, as was used in the Munich pact and other recent bluffs, without firing a shot.

NEW CITRUS AGREEMENT

The new citrus agreement, proposed at a Washington conference, and effective if approved by the growers, should improve the orange industry. Most growers are unable to see in it a solution, but it does contain remedial provisions in that it requires the co-operation of Florida and Texas, which have hitherto free-lanced and thereby imposed a hardship upon those fruit-producing states which have operated under a pro-rate. The accord requires that the two warring states unite with others in shipping agreements.

Purchase of surplus stock will remove only the lower grades of fruit, which will go into by-products. The government should not be required to use taxpayers' money to buy surplus stock. Adequate control by withholding from the market surplus fruit would naturally improve the price of the fruit offered. Growers could voluntarily agree to surrender their percentage of fruit in excess years without asking the government to buy the lower grades. However, inasmuch as the purchased surplus goes to relief sources, the competitive feature is considerably reduced.

This is provided for largely in the agreement that the industry itself keep from competitive markets an equal amount of fruit purchased by the government.

Local growers see no permanent relief from the situation until there is an orderly marketing system adopted. This must apply, as the prospects due to increased acreage mean a steadily increasing amount of fruit. As the immediate situation stands, the matter is largely in the hands of Florida growers. If they unite with other orange-producing states there will be an improvement. Otherwise the situation will continue chaotic.

Many students of agriculture and agriculture claim the industries should stand on their own feet, and that the problems should not be thrown into the government crucible; that the only reason these questions go there now is because the influence toward solution is greater. The problems should be settled by the respective industries through cooperation. It is the self-preservation method. There are many who argue that the entire issue could be solved if fruit was sold f.o.b. instead of by the "tramp car" system. Sell the oranges before they start rotting. After all, it must be admitted that the federal conference has clarified the situation, and growers can look more hopefully forward to better prices.—Santa Paula Chronicle.

I'LL TELL YOU....

BY BOB BURNS

One of the most convincing books on crime I ever read was written by a criminal who was doing a life term. I think the best temperance lectures are by those who have experienced the evils of over-indulgence, but I know a lot of people won't agree with me.

One day a lady walked into a newspaper office and told the editor she would love to speak to the beauty editor. The editor says, "Has she done you any good? Do you have confidence in her?" The lady says, "Oh, absolutely!" The editor says, "Well, then maybe you'd better not see her!"

Philosophy

I had an experience with two taxi drivers the other day, both in their early twenties. They appeared equally intelligent. I exchanged no words with either beyond perfunctory advice as to destination; I kept each of them waiting twenty minutes or more during my appointments. When I returned I found one of them lolling back in his seat listening to jazz music over the radio; the other absorbed in a book on engineering from which he was intently making notes.

Which one of these taxi drivers is most likely to succeed? Which will be the farther ahead ten years from now?

Do you know that you pay ten dollars every month toward stamping out crime?

Not only you, but every man, woman and child in this country, pays this amount to our government either directly or indirectly. But however payment is made, it comes from your pocket. It may be an increased rent, a portion of which the landlord pays in taxes to support the police, or it may be deducted from the amount paid for cigarettes, or as railroad or bus fare. But you pay it!

My authority is the man who is spending his life in an effort to make this country safe for you and me. To make it safe for you to take a walk after dark; to drive your car on a country road; to sit in your home without fear. It was J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who told that $120 per person is levied as a tax for hunting down criminals.

That adds up to a lot of money. Let's see what we can do to help Mr. Hoover make this country safe for you and for me—for your wife, your husband, your son, your little daughter. I'm preparing a column with ideas which I believe in. Let's have your ideas. As a law-abiding, peace-loving citizen, you have a responsibility to carry and you have a right to be heard. Won't you please write me what you think should be done to help Mr. Hoover in his tremendous task.

Here is a message to you from a man who started as an office boy with the New York Life Insurance company and remained to become its president, Thomas A. Buckner said:

"I find in life that most affairs that require serious handling are distasteful. For this reason, I have always believed that the successful man has the hardest battle with himself rather than with the other fellow. To bring one's self to a frame of mind and to the proper energy to accomplish things that require plain hard work continuously is the one big battle that everyone has. When this battle is won for all time, then everything is easy."

These lines are under the glass top of my desk where I can read them daily.

Remarkable Remarks

A white man dropped the bottle from an airplane and it fell into my pocket.

—Mollie John, an Indian, pleading guilty to a charge of possession of liquor in Williams Lake, B. C.

She was the devil and I had to drive her spirit from the house.

—Wilfred Pichette, Houghton, Mich., confessing the murder of a family maid.

Our students are the kind who go to college. There is a difference between those who go and those who are sent.

—Daniel L. Marsh, president of Boston University.

They could not even get a war in Europe. There are a lot of people who have been to war.

—Henry Ford.

Apart from one or two jobs which the church has to offer, the rest are sissy jobs. Men are not interested.

SOMESENSE RHYMES
In Winter I'm like Mercury,
All full of pep and fleet;
And in summer, as a worker,
I can register the heat.
